Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 15 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry for most on Thursday, with warm sunshine at times.

Today:
Rather a cloudy start for some, misty for a few coastal areas. Parts of western Scotland picking up low cloud later, while southern and eastern England sees variable cloud this afternoon. Elsewhere decent sunny spells and warm or very warm.

Tonight:
Low cloud across parts of western Scotland, a little drizzle possible on hills. Parts of southeastern UK may be rather cloudy but elsewhere long clear spells and isolated fog.

Friday:
Exposed parts of north and west Scotland seeing low cloud, drizzle and mist at times. Elsewhere, cloud towards the southeast breaking, then long spells of very warm sunshine for most.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Cloudy across parts of Scotland with patchy rain or drizzle edging south. Dry elsewhere with plenty of sunshine. Becoming hot in places, especially parts of central and southern England.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.